ONE HUNDRED FIFTY

FIRST EXCURSION FROM WALLA WALLA A SUCCESS.

The Largest Number of Excursionists Came From Walla Walla, With About Equal Numbers From Milton, Weston, Athena and Adams—The Train Affords Many a Cautious Business and Pleasure Opportunity—Pendleton Merchants Guarantee Delicacies.

One hundred and fifty excursionists from Walla Walla and intervening points took advantage of the Pendleton Merchants' excursion train today.

The first merchants' excursion train arrived at 9:35 on schedule time, in charge of Conductor Dave Wright and Engineer John Jesse, engine 134. The train was made up of four coaches and a caboose, and was comfortably loaded. The largest number of excursionists came from Walla Walla, while Milton, Weston, Athena and Adams furnished about an equal proportion of the remainder.

Everyone expressed the highest satisfaction at the train, and all were loud in their praises of Pendleton merchants who provided the accommodation. Those who were interviewed on the subject expressed the wish that such a train could be run every day, instead of once a week. Many Walla Walla people are in the city today, having come over to visit relatives and enjoy the trip. Residents of the towns along the line in Umatilla county are here on legal business, for the purpose of trading and also to visit and enjoy the entire day once a week in their county seat.

The train will be continued on the same basis, and Pendleton merchants feel that being entitled to trade from Umatilla county, the people along the line will appreciate this public spirited effort to make it convenient for the residents of the county to reach the county seat early in the morning one day each week.

O. R. & N. officials are not taking any part in the matter, other than to furnish the cars and engine on a guarantee of $150 worth of business. If the business of the train does not reach that amount, Pendleton merchants make good the deficit. It is a plain business proposition and the O. R. & N. is not discriminating against Walla Walla nor favoring Pendleton.

EMINENT MUSICIAN IN TOWN.

J. M. Fiedler, Ex-President Northern Pacific Saengerbund.

J. M. Fiedler, a prominent cigar manufacturer of Walla Walla, is in Pendleton today for the first time in seven years. "There has been a wonderful growth in the town," he remarked, "and I hardly knew the place. My business is such that if it had not been for the enterprise of the Pendleton merchants in furnishing an excursion, I would have been unable to have come to this city. As it is, I will be able to transact my business and get back home this evening."

Mr. Fiedler is prominent among the German singers of the Northwest, and two years ago was president of the North Pacific Saengerbund. The next annual saengerfest will be held in Portland. Walla Walla members, says Mr. Fiedler, will send a large chorus to the meeting.

IS NO DISCRIMINATION.

A. L. Craig, of the O. R. & N., Answers the Childish Plea of Walla Walla Merchants.

In answer to a childish letter from the Walla Walla Commercial Association, charging that the O. R. & N. is discriminating against that city, in furnishing an excursion train for Pendleton merchants upon a guarantee of $150, A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the O. R. & N., replied:

"Your letter of the 15th regarding the excursion train to Pendleton was received. We are running this train on the same basis that we run excursion trains from time to time in either direction between Pendleton and Walla Walla and have a guarantee that the earnings will not be less than $150."

"Any time that Walla Walla wants a similar train in the opposite direction between the same train points we will be glad to run it on the same basis."

"We are not discriminating in favor of either place, but of course we cannot refuse to perform the service when the people are ready to ready to guarantee the earnings. We could not make this a permanent proposition, as your people seem to understand, on account of the effect it would have on their business."

WHAT REEDER THINKS.

His Views Regarding Raising Money for Portage Road.

W. H. Reeder, perhaps one of the largest individual wheat raisers in Umatilla county, is in Pendleton today. Mr. Reeder is making his temporary residence in Tacoma. For the benefit of his health he expects to leave shortly for California to spend the winter.

Speaking of the portage railroad project, Mr. Reeder remarked that the farmers of the Lewiston country would undoubtedly receive more benefit from the construction of the railway than those of Umatilla county. When asked as to his views regarding the raising of funds by the people for the construction of the road he remarked:

"When the legislature appropriated money to build the road, it seems to me the people were paying for it. I haven't given the matter the slightest consideration."

Twenty Days for Assault.

Twenty days in jail is the punishment of W. G. Griffin, a colored man, who couldn't stand a little "fun." Griffin was tried in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon for assault and battery committed upon Flora Edmonds, a mulatto. Griffin tried to excuse his conduct by saying he was provoked by the taunts and jibes of Mrs. Edmonds and her white companion, but Recorder Fitz Gerald failed to see the force of his argument and fined him $40. The prisoner was unable to pay the fine and was taken to jail.

Not at Government School.

It has been erroneously stated several times that the diphtheria and measles are both prevalent at the Umatilla Indian school at the agency. This is a mistake, as there is no sickness at the agency school at all, but both diphtheria and measles are prevalent at the Catholic school, five miles distant from the agency. The two schools have been confused in making statements concerning the epidemic of diphtheria. There is no sickness at the Umatilla agency school.

Will Manufacture Polish.

C. E. Battelle, who came here several weeks ago, is promoting a metal polish which he says can be manufactured here from native materials and sold cheaper than any imported stuff, and which is of the highest grade. He calls the polish "Smileo," and is now having labels printed for the cans, cases and boxes in which it will be sold. It is simply a silverware, brass or china polish, and promises to be a valuable addition to the manufacturing interest of the city.

Hubbard May Lecture Here.

Charles B. Sampson, a member of the Roycroft Academy of Immortals, or life membership subscribers to the "Philistine," has just received a letter from Elbert Hubbard, editor of the "Philistine," in which Hubbard says he may visit Pendleton this winter on a lecture tour of the Northwest. Hubbard is a delightful speaker and his lectures are in demand everywhere.
